PATIENT-CENTERED MEDICAL HOME

The National Committee for Quality Assurance (NCQA) describes the Patient-Centered Medical Home as a model for care provided by physician practices that seek to strengthen the physician-patient relationship. NCQA designated UF Health primary care centers in Northeast Florida as Patient-Centered Medical Homes. UF Health is the first health care organization in the region and the first academic medical group in the state to receive this designation.

YOUR FIRST APPOINTMENT

- Please arrive 15 minutes early to fill out any paperwork or update your medical records.
- Bring all medications and pertinent medical records you have.
- Bring your current health insurance card or insurance information and a photo ID.
- Your visit may last longer than usual so that we can obtain a complete medical history and perform a comprehensive examination.
- Because our practices are part of an academic health center, you may be seen by a team of health care professionals that includes your primary physician, nurse practitioner, physician assistant, resident physician, or medical student.

OUR EXPECTATION

In order to provide you with the best care possible, we expect you to provide us with your medical history, including current medications, recent test results, visits to other doctors and health care providers, hospitalizations and emergency department visits.

FEES AND INSURANCE

Our fees are based on the type of services we provide. We accept most insurances, as well as Medicaid and Medicare. Please provide us with your insurance information and ID at your first appointment. If your insurance covers all or a portion of your claim, we will file it for you and bill your insurance company. If you are responsible for all or a portion of your health care costs, payment is expected at the time of your visit.
